Healthy Homes: Assessment and Interventions

The primary objective of the Healthy Homes: Assessment and Interventions course is to help students prepare for the Healthy Homes Specialist credential exam. Students will not only learn about the importance of the resident interview, but will practice conducting one. Likewise, after developing strategies for assessing the health-related hazards in a home, students will conduct an onsite inspection, from which they will develop a comprehensive action plan. They will learn about identifying responsible parties, estimating costs, handling the bid process, communicating with residents, managing quality control, and keeping adequate records.
